Victor is a world-renowned scholar of classics and military history. He is one of America's most important voices holding the government accountable to the principles of freedom upon which the United States was founded.

A nationally syndicated columnist, Victor has authored hundreds of scholarly articles, books, and editorials on Greek, agrarian, and military history and essays on contemporary culture. His latest book is The End of Everything (2024). His list of awards includes the National Humanities Medal (2007), the Bradley Prize (2008), Claremont Institute's Henry Salvatori Award (2022) and many more.

About The Liberty Award

The Liberty Award is given to an individual who has made outstanding contributions to the cause of restoring personal and economic freedom and ensuring the free exchange of ideas.

It is the highest honor of the Global Liberty Institute.

Past recipients include Glenn Loury, Merton P. Stoltz Professor of Social Sciences and Economics at Brown University and Paulson Fellow at the Manhattan Institute; and Christopher Rufo, senior fellow and director of the initiative on critical race theory at the Manhattan Institute.
